HENRY FELL TO MARGARET FELL, 1666.

It is not yet evident in what year Henry Fell settled on the island of Barbados. He was on the continent of Europe in 1661 (Camb. Jnl. ii. 8), and appears to have left for the New World under some weight of financial difficulties. If he settled on the mainland as he proposed to do, it could not have been for long, as later letters to M. Fell are written from Barbados (1672, see Fells, p. 281; 1673/4, see Camb. Jnl. ii. 256).

Barbados ye 20th of ye 4th month, 1666.

Deare M: F

Thy kinde and Lovinge Letter J reced wch was dated the 9th of ye 10th Month 1665 aboue six month after ye writing of it. how euer it was exceeding welcome to me ; for J was very much refreshed, and melted with the tendernes of thy loue ; the Lord reward thee seuenfould into thy owne bosome. mine with my wiues very deare loue Salutes thee ; and ffriends that wayes. J haue written Seuerall Letters wch J pceiue haue come to thy hands, though some J beleue haue miscarryed ; but it may be more of thyne to me. ye Seas now are very troublesome & passage difficult by reason of ye warr¹⁶ whereby many Shipps haue Miscarryed and ye Shipps are stopt from trading, by ye Kings Jmbargo wch hinders ye recourse of o^r letters. J could write much as concerning ffriends in relation to Truth, in this place, but J see it not conveynient to mention at prsent only we enjoye our meetings peacable, but things are not well ; for though good seed hath beene sowne ; yet the enemy hath sowne tares, wch come up, & ouertopp ye other and most haue come to great losse. J am very Sencible of it my selfe to my great sorrow & greife. and he that only can restore

Soe that here is none in ye ministry at p^rsent. J haue often wished for Tho: Salthouse²² or Geo: Whitehead²² to come hither (or some other good sound ffriend) if ye will of ye lord were soe; w^{ch} might sett things in order, w^{ch} might be great Seruice. J am euen now ready to take shipping for New Yorke, in New England (it was formerly called Manathas); J haue bought a pt of ye vessell J goe in; my Jntentions is to see ffriends there abouts that are settled, and if J like ye Country J intend ye next yeare (if the lord will) to carry my wife thither, and dwell there. J hope J may be backe at this Jsland about 4 or 5 monthes hence. my wife stayes here and her ffamilly where she did till J returne, J hope to see A C: and ye rest of ffriends before J returne. my very deare loue is to all thy children, and ffriends in thy ffamilly and elsewhere. Alsoe let my very deare

¹⁷ This, no doubt, refers to John Perrot. His death must have taken place between Fourth Month, 1665, the date of a letter from him to some English Friends, and the date of this letter. John Taylor was on the Island when Perrot died, and he resided there from March, 1663/4, till May, 1666 (Camb. Jnl.). The reference to his death in Camb. Jnl. ii. 376 should be modified accordingly.

¹⁸ Not identified. A Robert Stake was imprisoned in Maryland in 1661 (Besse, ii. 380).

²¹ Of Ann Coleman there is, at present, great dearth of information except respecting her travels in America. The one letter of hers known to us (D. Swarth. MSS. iv. 225) was addressed to G. Fox from Rhode Island, 17. v. 1663, and endorsed by the recipient "to gf 1663 this woman was a drovers & died in barmouds in the trouth," implying, perhaps, that her previous name was Ann Drover, and also that she died in Bermudas. In above letter she writes, "Five times J have bin a prisoner and in ther tovnes J have bin wipt be side stoning and kicking and striking." John Taylor met her in Boston, N.E., in 1666.

Thy ffriend in my measure of Truth,
HEN: FELL.

This letter occupies one page of a folio sheet ; the fly-leaf has been partially destroyed. The letter is addressed : " To my very deare ffriend Margret ffell prison^r at Lancaster dd these," and endorsed by G. Fox : " henery fell to mff 1666." There is another endorsement, by John Abraham : " Henry ffell a ffriend In early times, his Letter to my Dear and Honourd Grand Mother." On the back of the letter are several arithmetical calculations !

ELLIS HOOKES TO MARGARET FELL, 1666.

The correspondence between Ellis Hookes, Friends' secretary in London, and M. Fell was voluminous. Many letters from the former to the latter are extant.

Two subjects—a lull in persecution in London and an attempt to obtain the release of G. Fox from Scarborough Castle—engage attention in this letter. The writer modestly omits reference to his own efforts for the release of G.F. Another letter from the same to the same, written twelve days later, on the subject of the release, is printed in the Camb. Jnl. (ii. 102). George Fox was liberated on the 1st of the following month.

Deare Mff.

My deare and everlasting loue is vnto thee in y^e Truth wherein J am sensable y^t my loue is as deare to thee as ever. J received thy letter wth one enclosed of John Rous & now thou may know by this that freinds

J. W. is gonn downe wth the order. J would haue thee keep it private at present for wee know not what obstructions may be mett wth but J doe not much question his release.

The letter occupies the centre of the first page of a quarto sheet. It is addressed: "For my Lov: ffreind M ffell. Leave this wth Thomas Green at his shopp in Lancaster," and endorsed by G. Fox: "e hovkes to mff 1666," and by John Abraham: "Ellis Houkes his Letter to my Dear and Honourd Grand Mother. Hee was a brave Seruiceable man In those Days for Truth."

connection with this letter. Later information is here communicated, relating to the Great Fire; and other occurrences in the City are reported for the benefit of the distant correspondent.

Deare M ff.

My deare loue is vnto thee in the truth w^{ch} changeth not J received two letters from thee since J wrote but J haue been in the Country and soe could not conveniently write to thee; J suppose thou may ere this haue received E Stubbs²⁷ letter wherein she hath given thee an Account of what she hath donne both as cleereing her selfe heere & in spreading thy papers amongst the Rulers. concerning thy great booke²⁸ W. ²⁷ Elizabeth Stubbs was the wife of John Stubbs (Camb. Jnl.). She died in Clerkenwell, London, in 1710, aged ninety years.

²⁸ It is not yet evident which of the two books written by M. Fell, longer than the others, is here referred to, whether The Standard of the Lord Revealed, or A Touchstone. This "bigg booke" is also mentioned in earlier letters (Camb. Jnl. ii. 103, 402; Fells, p. 243, where report is made that the MS. was saved from the Fire and handed to William Warwick, the printer).

²⁹ Thomas Coveny is mentioned several times among prominent London Friends. In concert with Gerard Roberts and others he wrote two or three papers. According to the London Registers, Thomas Coveny of Newington Green died from a fall from his horse and was buried at Checker Alley, 18. v. 1670.

CERTIFICATE OF MARRIAGE OF GEORGE FOX AND MARGARET FELL, 1669.

The text of this Certificate is printed in Fells, pp. 254n, 429, but a selection only of the signatories, numbering nineteen names, is given. The Certificate also appears in The Irish Friend, for 1841, and appended to this transcript is a list of ninety names, several being incorrectly transcribed. A certified copy from the register of the marriage now deposited at Somerset House³³ is in D.; after giving twenty-two names the words are added "and many others." The copy of the Certificate preserved among Thirnbeck MSS. in the handwriting of Sarah Fell, has ninety-four names attached to it. These names are here printed.

³⁰ St. Mary Overy, now Southwark Cathedral, situate near the south end of London Bridge.

³¹ For Anne Travers, see Camb. Jnl.

³² John Staploe or Staples was a grocer. In 1682, his address was the Harrow in Aldersgate Street. He was a representative Friend of Peel Monthly Meeting. (Sundry Ancient Epistles, MS. in D.) He died in 1717, aged seventy-nine years.

It is noticeable that of the daughters of Margaret Fell, Bridgett is the only absentee, from which it has been inferred that her death had already taken place (Camb. Jnl. i. 467). The remaining six daughters appear in age order⁹⁸, except in the case of Sarah, where she gives her married sister, Mary, the precedence. In order to balance this, however, Sarah inscribes her name on this copy three times as large as the rest, and underlines it in a determined way!

Of the other signatories it may be noted that about fifteen are well-known Friends from other parts of the country, while the remainder appear to be local Friends.

³⁴ For these Friends, see Camb. Jnl.

³⁵ There is considerable difficulty in tracing John Moone, owing to his supposed changes of residence. Joseph Smith states that he was first of Carhouse near Garstang, Lancs., later of Bristol, and lastly of Pennsylvania.

He is addressed with other Bristol Friends by George Fox in 1678 (D. Swarth. MSS. trans. v. 17).

³⁸ Thomas North was committed to Bridewell, Bristol, in 1663, for attending a meeting in the street when the meeting-house doors were shut and guarded. He was among the Bristol Friends "convicted in order to Banishment" in 1664 (Suff. i. 45, ii. 637). Children of his died in 1672, 1673, 1674, 1676 and 1678.

⁴¹ Nathaniel Day was a hosier, of Bristol, 1683 (Suff. i. 68). His wife's name was Anne (ibid.). He died in 1691. In 1706, there was one of the same name Mayor of Bristol (see previous note).

⁴³ Erasmus Dole (-1716), of Bristol. His wife, Joyce, died in 1674. In 1683 he is described as "Pewterer," and his wife's name given as Sarah. Sarah Dole died in 1711.

⁴⁴ John Ware (Wear) is mentioned by Besse in 1656 (Suff. i. 42) and by G. Fox in 1678, among Friends in Bristol (Swarth. MSS. trans. v. 17).

⁴⁵ Nicholas Jordan (-1681) is mentioned by Besse as a sufferer in Bath, 1658 (Suff. i. 584). He was one of the "Dispersers of Quakers' books" (Extracts from State Papers, p. 228).

⁴⁷ David Simonds was one of the Bristol Friends on whom sentence for banishment was passed in 1663-4.

⁴⁸ Jeremiah Hignell (-1702) was a prominent Bristolian Friend. He expressed approval in public of the Fox-Fell marriage (MS. in D.). He wrote Loving and Friendly Advice and Counsel to the Inhabitants of Bristol, which was printed in 1698 on a folio sheet, in which he urges his fellow-citizens and neighbours to deal plainly with the Lord and their own souls and to see how their lives are squared by the Truth, which search will not hurt any of them. Alice Hignell, wife of Jeremiah, died in 1690. His sister, Temperance Hignell, died in Newgate, Bristol, in 1655.

⁵⁰ There was a John Higgins, of Bristol, who is mentioned in THE JOURNAL, iv. 121. There was a John Higgins, of London and Kent, and another of Lancaster.

⁵¹ Miles Dixon (Dickson), "An Antient Friend," died in 1672.

⁵² There were several local Friends named John Baker, and without further evidence we cannot be sure which of these, or what other Friend of this name, affixed his signature to this certificate.

⁵³ There was a John Watts, of Clifton, Bristol, who died in 1688.

⁵⁴ Thomas Bourne's name appears in Besse (ii. 637), among those of Bristol Friends "convicted in order to Banishment" in 1664. He died in 1690.

⁵⁵ There were Dowells as well as Doles in Bristol Meeting. John Dowell, Senior, died in 1676.

⁵⁶ George Phipps, of Bristol, died in 1677.

⁵⁷ Thomas Jordan (-1688) was a Bristol grocer, of Maryport parish.

⁵⁸ John Hardiman was a tailor of Bristol (Suff. i. 68).

⁵⁹ Bridget Hollister (-1671) was wife of Dennis Hollister.

⁶⁰ Mary Gouldney was the wife of Thomas Gouldney.

⁶¹ Mary Prince, widow, of Bristol, died in 1679. Her daughters apparently married into the families of Bissey and Marshall.

⁶² Hester Vickris was perhaps the same as Esther Vickaris, who died in 1721/2. Richard Vickris (-1700) was a noted Bristol Friend.

⁶³ Margaret Bissey, of "James Parish," Bristol, died 1700. Her name appears in the Box Meeting MSS. in D. M. Webb reads Besse (Fells, p. 430), but this MS. is quite clear.

⁶⁴ Elizabeth Rogers appears in Besse's list of Friends "convicted for Banishment" in 1663, 1664 (Suff. ii. 638). She was, perhaps, the same as Elizabeth, wife of William Rogers, of Bristol.

⁶⁵ Susannah Pearson, the elder, is mentioned by Besse, under years 1664 and 1670 (Suff. i. 53, ii. 638).

⁶⁶ Barbara Blaugden (-c. 1691), lived in Bristol. She is described as "widow" in 1683 (Suff. i. 68). She travelled extensively in the ministry and suffered heavily in body and estate. In 1655, she was in Ireland twice, on the latter occasion barely escaping death by drowning (ibid. ii. 458-461).

⁶⁷ Mary Morgan has not been identified.

⁶⁸ Elizabeth Pyott was, perhaps, the wife of Edward Pyott. See Camb. Jnl. ii. 384.

⁶⁹ Several Friends named Anne Jones lived around Bristol City.

⁷⁰ Probably, Jane, wife of Francis Rogers, of Bristol.

⁷¹ Elizabeth Milner, widow, of Castle Precincts, Bristol, died in 1690.

⁷² Elizabeth Shewar, not identified—clearly so written. The Bristol Burial Registers contain the names Sheward, Shea, and Shore.

⁷³ Perhaps, Mary Wastfield, who married John Hartnel (Hurtnell), of Bristol, in 1675, and died in the following year. Maria Webb's reading of this name—Mary Wakefield—(Fells, p. 430) has caused much confusion.

⁷⁴ Joyce Warren, not identified.

⁷⁵ Perhaps, Ann, wife of Thomas Speed, formerly Yeamans (cp. Camb. Jnl. i. 461, 464).

⁷⁶ Sarah Moone was, probably, the wife of John Moone.

⁷⁷ Mary North, of Bristol, was one of the many Friends “convicted in order to Banishment” in 1663 and 1664 (Suff. ii. 638). She was probably the wife of Thomas North.

⁷⁸ Magdalen Love was the wife of John Love, of Bristol. She died in 1680.

⁷⁹ Besse mentions a Hannah Jordan, widow, in 1682 and 1683, in Bristol (Suff. i. 64, 69, ii. 638). Anna Jordan died in 1700. She may have been the wife of Nicholas Jordan.

⁸⁰ Joan Dixon, widow, of Bristol, was fined in 1683 for non-attendance at church (Suff. i. 69, cp. ii. 637). She was probably the wife of Miles Dixon.

⁸³ Lydia Jordan (—1685) was the wife of Thomas Jordan, of Bristol.

⁸⁵ Jane Batho was one of the Bristol Friends sentenced to banishment in 1664. At her death in 1673 she was described as “wife of John.”

⁸⁶ Elizabeth Dowell, widow, is mentioned by Besse in 1683. She was probably widow of John Dowell, Senr., who died in 1676.

⁸⁷ The Bristol Registers contain the record of the death of Susannah Freeman, of Trinity Parish, in 1688.

⁹⁰ Mary Baldwin, wife of William Baldwin, of Bristol, died in 1675.

⁹¹ Sarah Godby has not been identified. There were several Friends named Godby or Gotby in Bristol, among them a Susanna.

⁹² "Ellioner Maid, An Antient Friend," died in Bristol in 1674. (Bristol Registers.)

⁹³ Rebecca Howell, of Bristol, appears in Besse, in 1663 and 1664 (ii. 637).

⁹⁴ According to the Bristol Registers, Deborah Pyott married John Wither, of Bristol, in 1666, the latter dying later in the same year. In 1676, Deborah Wither married George Hawes.

⁹⁵ Sarah Cann, spinster, was fined £60 for three months' absence from the National Worship, in 1683 (Suff. i. 68). Her death took place in 1711.

⁹⁷ Ruth Marsh, wife of Richard Marsh, died at Limehouse, London, in 1684. See F.Q.E. 1907, p. 481.

⁹⁸ See THE JOURNAL, vi. 162.

GEORGE FOX TO MARGARET FOX, 1669.

JOHN ROUS TO MARGARET FOX, 1669.

These two letters appear in modernized form in Fells, pp. 256-260.

The second letter contains important information of the attitude of several members of the family towards the recently accomplished marriage of Margaret Fell with G. Fox—"brother and sister Fell" and "uncle Richardson" are mentioned.

Both letters are written on one folio leaf. The address is: "To Rachel ffell for M. ff this at Swarthmore. To be left with John Higgins in Lancaster," and the leaf is endorsed by John Abraham: "my Honourd Grand ffather ffox's Letter to my Honourd Grand Mother, together with one from unc^{le} Rous both wrt by unc^{le} Rous 1669." They are dated from Enfeild, 23rd and 25th of Tenth Month, 1669, respectively.

THE WILL OF GEORGE FELL, 1670.

This Will has been printed in extenso in THE JOURNAL, viii. 2.

The copy among Thirnbeck MSS. is ancient. It is endorsed : "A Copy Georg fells Esq. Will."

XI.

JOHN ROUS TO MARGARET FOX, 1672.

After referring to an item or two regarding money matters, the writer goes into full particulars of a murder recently taken place in Holland. It has been said that George Fox shews little sign of being interested in the happenings around him—the same cannot be said of his wife, although it is not evident why this recital should have been sent her by her son-in-law.

Dear Mother

J rec^d thine yesterday & doe pretty much strange how y^t mistake happened about y^e mony, but since further advising wth Thomas Yoakley⁹⁹ J find the busines is as thou writes, thy bill drawne on Thomas Yoakley payable to Thomas Green⁹⁹ for 50^{li} is paid, & had been paid sooner if thou had required it ; J have spoken with Thomas Yoakley about the 150^{li} behind on the bond, & we have concluded to pay it at the time called Michaelmas being my sisters occasions require it, but it would have stood much more with my Conveniencie y^t it had all been p^d at y^e end of 3 months as J expected ; here is very strange news from holland, w^{ch} thou may see at Large in the Gazet, but least thou should not meet with it, J may give thee a short acc^t therof the 20th instant their stile, Cornelius de wit for suspition of having a designe to murther the Prince of Orange was banished the province of holland on paine of death, & his Brother y^e pentionarie John de wit going to see him & being in the prison, vpon some dissatisfaction among the burgers & common people they forced the prison doores open, some fired on y^m & some runne y^m & being

The half sheet on which this letter is written is much worn at the folds and barely holds together. It is directed: "ffor Sarah ffell this at Swarthmore. To be left wth John Higgins at Lancaster," and endorsed by G. Fox: "j: r: to m ff of the dvich defirying ther magrastats," and by John Abraham: "Dr Unc^{le} Rouse Letter to my Dr & Honor^d Grand Mother In 1672."

XII.

ROBERT BARCLAY TO THE FELL SISTERS, 1676.

This letter (written from Aberdeen Prison, 27, x. 1676), and the copies of letters from the Princess Elizabeth and from the Countess of Horne added to it, are to be found in Fells, pp. 301-306.

The writing occupies three pages of quarto letter paper. The sheet is endorsed by J. Abraham: "The Excellent Rob^t Bartley Letter to three of my Aunts and to my Dear and Tender Mother."—Isabel, Sarah, Susanna, and Rachel (afterwards Abraham).

¹⁰⁰ The horrible murder of the brothers Cornelius and John de Wit is narrated at large in histories of the period. See, e.g., Barker's Rise and Decline of the Netherlands, 1906; Cambridge Modern History, vol. v. chap. vii., 1908; also woven into a novel, I Will Maintain, by Marjorie Bowen, 1911.
