

List of the Writings of A. Neave Brayshaw

FOR the most part this consists of pieces which were separately published. It contains few of his contributions to periodicals unless they were reprinted.

I. BIBLICAL STUDY

- Bible Notes on the Prophetic Period.* Part I, 1904; Part II, 1906.
The Meaning of Biblical Criticism. In the volume "Concerning Religious Education", Teachers and Taught Series, 1912.
Textual Criticism. VIII chapters based on lecture notes and printed in the "Memoir" of A.N.B., 1941.

2. HISTORY

- Classified Catalogue of Books on English History in the John Bright Library, Bootham School,* 1903 and 1909.
Friends. Article in "Encyclopædia Britannica", 11th Ed., 1910-11, partly reprinted in 14th ed., 1929.
Presidential Address to Friends' Historical Society. On the value of Quaker historical studies. In Journal of Friends' Historical Society, VIII, 1911.
Review of "Beginnings of Quakerism", 1912.
The Personality of George Fox. 1918, revised editions, 1919, 1933.
Second Period, 1725-1825. In "London Yearly Meeting during 250 Years", 1919.
Review of "Second Period of Quakerism", 1919.
The Quakers: Their Story and Message. 1921, revised editions, 1927, 1938. Extended versions of Chapters 14, 15, 16, on The Nineteenth Century, Quaker Ministry, Philanthropy and Spiritual Life, which were abbreviated for the 3rd ed., 1938, are in the Library at Friends House.
The Society of Friends in Manchester. Joint author with Elfrida Vipont Foulds. In "Mount Street, 1830-1930".
Friends. Article in "Everymans' Encyclopædia", 1931-32.

3. LIFE AND MINISTRY OF FRIENDS

- Address to Sidcot Old Scholars,* 1905, and in Memoir of A.N.B., 1941.
Inculcation of Friends' Principles in our Boarding Schools. Address to Friends' Guild of Teachers, 1905, and in Memoir of A.N.B., 1941.

Address to Old York Scholars, 1907.

The Life that is Life Indeed. Address to Swanwick Summer School, 1911. In report of the conference, 1911, and Memoir of A.N.B., 1941.

Spiritual Ideals of Education. Presidential Address to Friends' Guild of Teachers, 1914.

The Problem of the Free Ministry, 1914.

Friends and the Inner Light. Friends Fellowship Papers, 1915, reprinted, and in Memoir of A.N.B., 1941.

Letter to Members of the Friends' Guild of Teachers, 1915.

In All Things Charity. Friends' Fellowship Papers, 1917.

Quaker Ministry, 1918, and in Memoir of A.N.B., 1941.

What is it for? Address to Friends' Guild of Teachers, 1926.

The Things that are Before Us. Swarthmore Lecture, 1926.

Be as Good as Men Think you are, 1927.

The Ministry, 1930.

Address to Sidcot Old Scholars, 1934.

Notes on Lessons to Members of the College Class, Bootham School, 1933, 1936, 1938, and in Memoir of A.N.B., 1941.

War, Pacifism and Christianity. In "The Listener", 12.v.1937.

Congregational Life and Service, 1938.

The Quaker Meeting for Worship and the Lay Ministry, 1938.

4. MISCELLANEOUS.

Introduction to Chess Miniatures, 1908, a little volume of chess problems.